

Your clients are participating in the global economy... ARE YOU?

As the world continues to shrink, companies and individuals are taking advantage of opportunities abroad. For the conscientious insurance professional this presents a unique challenge.

Are you hoping domestic medical coverage holds up overseas, or is it time to embrace a new line of products specifically designed for multi-national companies, expatriates and travelers?

Let us work with you to develop your international sales – and participate in the global economy.

ITG Worldwide is a unique General Agency offering a full line of international insurance products. Let us assist your agency by creating a strategy for evaluating your clients' international risks, making appropriate product recommendations and providing continuing service and support.
